MRK has an excellent reputation for performing objective evaluations. We currently work with more than three hundred legal firms and insurance companies and are dedicated to maintaining the highest standards of objective review and analysis of personal injuries.

Each stage of the process—research to review, analysis to opinion—is addressed in a comprehensive manner in order to help legal and insurance professionals reach appropriate conclusions about their clients' situations.

MRK's consultants maintain the highest standards of practice, and we are proud to have long-standing relationships with each of them.
